

INNER WEST COUNCIL

- The village of Enmore Estate formed part of the broader Enmore Estate which comprised approximately 30 acres being part of the land grants to Paul Page and William Jenkins;
- The first phase of development was the construction of the Victorian Georgian brick residence with slate roof at No. 91 Camden Street;

Statement of Significance

- The eleven properties as part of the proposed heritage conservation area have historic significance associated with the Enmore Estate and residential development in Enmore between 1840's and 1880's.
- This group of properties have associations with John Garsed, a notorious builder and speculative developer in Sydney in the late 19th century;
- The two rows of terraces are good examples of Victorian style row houses built in the 1880's as the original fabrics and features are generally retained;

Management Recommendations

- A Heritage Impact Statement is required by Council to accompany any Development Application for non-minor work to buildings within the area; please contact Council about your proposal and the level of documentation required;
- Further subdivision of the lots is discouraged;
- The overall form of the buildings including period materials and finishes should be retained and conserved;
- Any development forward of the building line such as solid fences, high walls or car parking structures is strongly discouraged for existing properties
