Background Information

- The two semi-detached dwellings were built in 1882;
- The dwellings have been history known as:
  - No. 17 Cary Street “Waratah”; and
  - No. 19 Cary Street “Essendene/Elmside”
- The properties provide an unique example of late Victorian architecture;
- The first occupant of No. 17 recorded was Thomas Ryall, and the first occupant of No. 19 being Mrs. J.S. Paris, the proprietor of The Royal Hotel in Croydon, both reported to be of a working class background
- The properties are situated on land that were originally part of Thomas Holt’s “The Warren” estate;
- The Warren estate was later subdivided in the 1880’s upon the deterioration of Holt’s health;

Modifications

- Any modifications to the semi-detached houses have been nominal.

Statement of Significance

- The semi-detached houses are evidence of the first 1881 subdivision of the land of “The Warren” estate; and
- The semi-detached houses display an interesting blend of Victorian Italianate and Victorian Rustic Gothic architectural features.

Management Recommendations

- A Heritage Impact Statement is required by Council to accompany any Development Application for non-minor work;
- Further subdivision of the land is discouraged unless the subdivision was to separate the two existing semi-detached dwellings onto separate titles;
- The overall form of the building, period materials and finishes should be retained and conserved;
- Any development forward of the building line such as solid fences, high walls or parking structures are strongly discouraged;
- Single storey extensions will be preferred over two-storey forms and should not be visible from the street.
